

Evoco promotes Lorenzo Sormani to Partner

Zurich, 14 March 2022

Evoco is pleased to announce that Lorenzo Gregory Sormani has been promoted to Partner of Evoco AG, as we continue our exciting journey of growth and evolution.

Lorenzo joined the firm in 2016 and has since cemented his position as a key and valuable member of the team. He has demonstrated his contribution across the investment life cycle, including deal origination, transaction execution and portfolio management. More specifically, Lorenzo has brought to the team his deep understanding of the DACH market, as well as his Anglo-Saxon approach to PE investment, with a truly pan-European network. Lorenzo has meaningfully influenced the direction of our investment strategy, as well as being a respected and knowledgeable member of the board of directors of several Evoco portfolio companies. He has also implemented his valuable experience from McKinsey & Company where he was involved in commercial due diligence for European Mid-Cap PE clients and corporate strategy, before joining Evoco.

Following his appointment to Partner, Lorenzo will spearhead Evoco's talent acquisition and Human Resources initiatives, as well as continuing to be deeply involved in portfolio management, deal execution and operational excellence. We believe that he will continue to generate significant value for our investors, in leading investments and realisations.

Felix Ackermann, Partner & Co-Founder, commented, "This meaningful appointment is a strong signal to our investors. Lorenzo's promotion heralds the broadening of our firm's leadership, supporting the scale and growth of our successful investment firm."

Michel Galeazzi, Partner & Co-Founder, added, "We believe that this marks an important milestone, illustrating our ability to both foster and retain quality and experienced talent."

Lorenzo Sormani, Partner, said, "I'm extremely pleased to join Evoco's leadership and look forward to continuing to work with the team in our mission to build strong and performing companies through our differentiated investment strategy. This marks an exciting new growth chapter which I'm excited to embark on."
